AMI

The Compounding World Expo and Plastics Recycling World Expo are heading to Mumbai, India

The free-to-attend trade fair will bring together two exhibitions; the Compounding World Expo and the Plastics Recycling World Expo, plus two focused conference theatres.

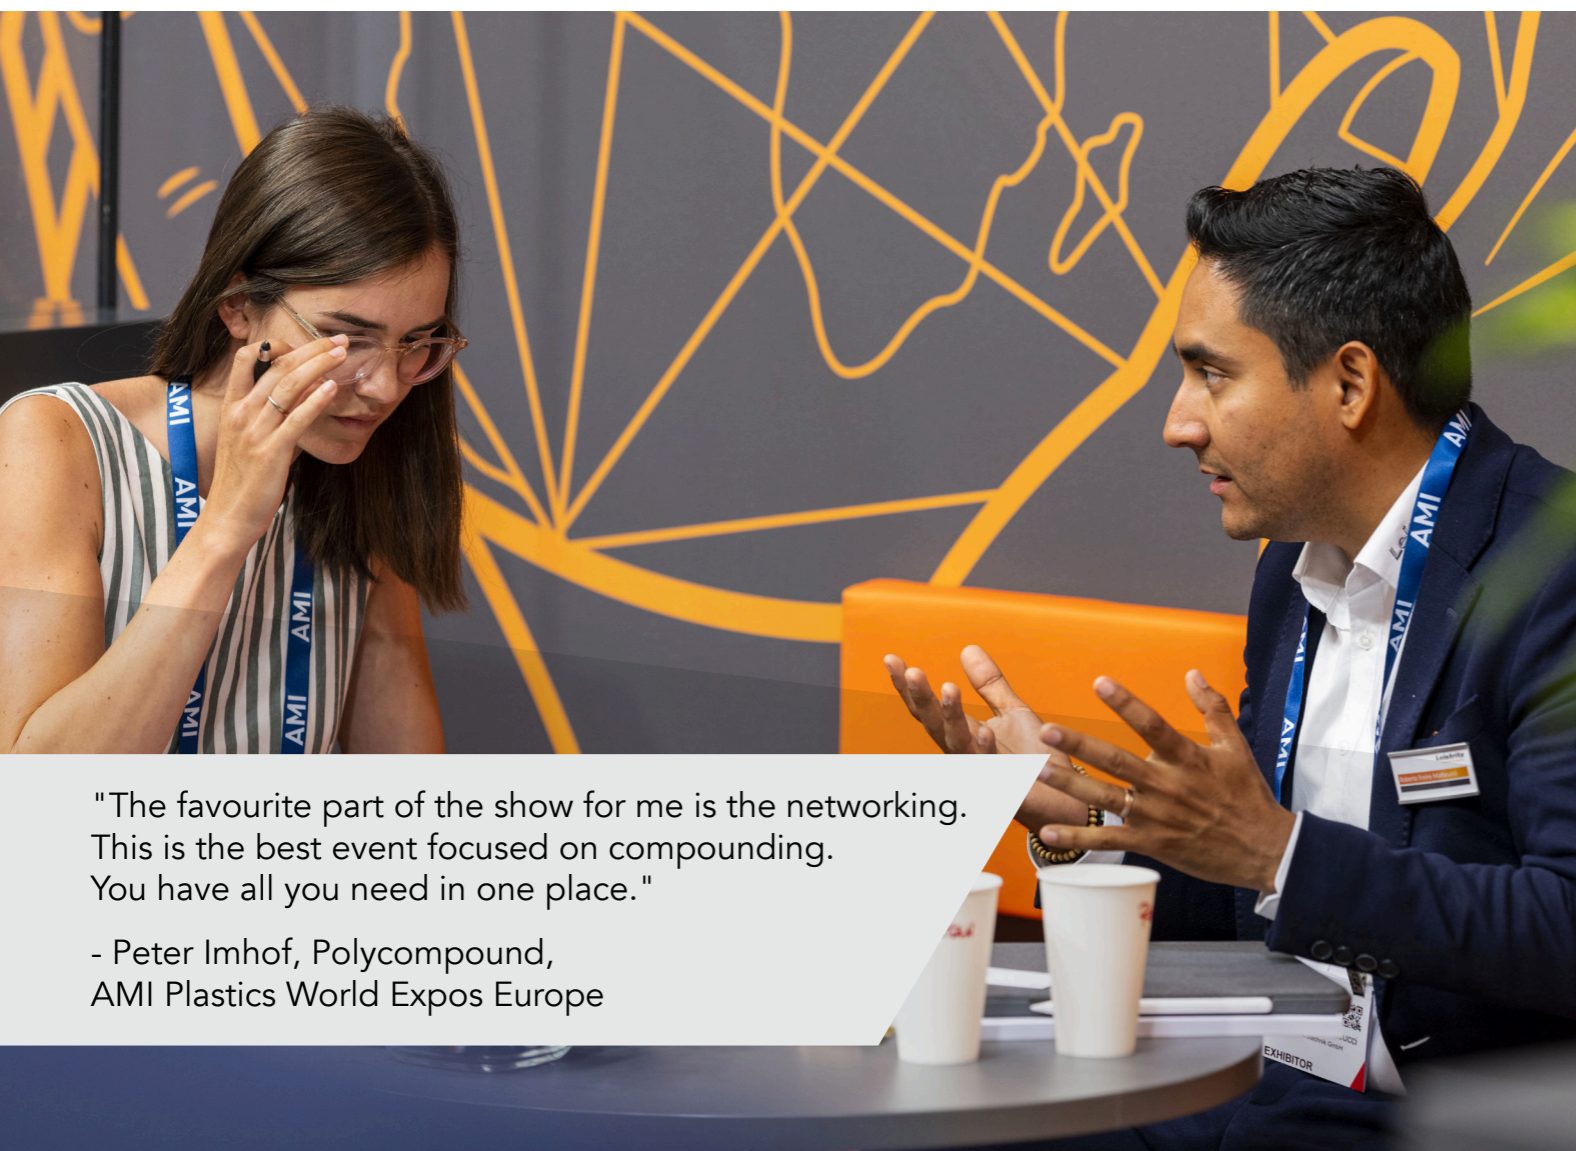

Created specifically for your key markets, the expos are designed to generate fresh sales leads and contacts for your business. The crossover from the focused exhibitions will increase your chances for expansion into different markets, while the high-quality free content in the theatres guarantees a large audience of key decision makers to present your products and services to.

Exhibiting helps you grow your business with minimum time commitment and financial investment, ensuring a high ROI. We have ready-to-go stand packages including furniture and electrics starting at just ₹160,000.

Why exhibit?

- Present your products to the right people at the focused exhibitions
- Connect with new and existing customers face to face
- Access thousands of potential clients under one roof
- Benefit from the crossover of the co-located exhibitions
- Raise your profile within the industry
- Be part of extensive promotional campaigns via Polymerupdate and AMI global magazines

"The favourite part of the show for me is the networking. This is the best event focused on compounding. You have all you need in one place."

- Peter Imhof, Polycompound,
AMI Plastics World Expos Europe
